Stuart and Jill Briscoe met each other in the context of youth ministry sixty years ago when he was a bank examiner and she was a school teacher. They married and based their life together on the bible verse, "As for me and my household we will serve the Lord" (Josh. 24: 15). Individually and together they have written scores of books, pastored a church in the United States for thirty years and founded a media ministry called "Telling the Truth" that broadcasts daily worldwide. Now in their eighties, they continue to talk to anyone who will listen! They have three children and thirteen grandchildren.

[The aging church population's] unique skills, experience and resources need to be harnessed so that church ministries for older people are not focused solely on caring for older people, but also on mobilizing those who are full of energy, ideas and experience, rather than parking them on the sidelines of church life.

—from Improving with Age

Improving with Age God's Plan for Getting Older and Better

Improving with Age addresses the triumphs and challenges of aging Christians and examines the uniqueness of skills and resources they bring to their church communities. Through Scripture and story, the Briscoes assert that aging is not only normal, but it is a joyful and productive life season. Improving with Age provides concrete strategies for mature Christians to embrace the now, renew their personal ministries and utilize their experience, wisdom and gifts for the building of God's kingdom.

So many books on the Christian life reduce it to believing in a certain theology and submitting to a set of rules. The problem with this is that if theology and rules were all that sinners need, Jesus would have never had to come. God's greatest and best gift to sinners is Himself in the person and work of Jesus. Because this is true, the Christian life is about knowing, loving, serving and worshiping Jesus. I am thankful that this book not only makes this clear, but unpacks exactly what it means to give yourself to a Jesus-centric way of living.

— Dr. Paul Tripp, author of What Did You Expect?

Jesus Life Connected Living in a Disconnected World

Jesus Life offers a simple yet compelling strategy to help believers connect to Jesus. Overwhelmed by the hustle and bustle of life, believers are often distracted and need guidance to move in a direction that makes Jesus, not only theoretically but also practically, the focus of their lives. Larry Smith provides this guidance with the use of three spiritual movements—upward, inward and outward—to help readers create and maintain a Christ-centric life. Jesus Life gives believers direction that, through the gospel, enables them to remain deeply connected to God.

Steve Beirn has been in local church ministry for thirty-seven years. He is the Global Ministries Pastor at Calvary Church in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, providing leadership in mobilizing the local church to recruit, prepare, send, and sustain their members in cross-cultural ministry. He received his BA in Biblical Literature at Northeastern Bible College in Essex Fells, New Jersey and his MA in Ministry from Moody Graduate School in Chicago, Illinois. His Masters project was "Developing and Implementing a Philosophy of Missions Ministry in the Church." He enjoys being a consultant to leaders in churches who desire to move forward in global engagement. He has traveled to over thirty-five countries leading short-term teams, equipping and training national leaders, and providing pastoral care to Calvary's missionaries who are ministering in over twenty-seven languages.

The trend in missions today is to place the individual at the center of the sending process. Sometimes the agency is placed at the center. This book places the local church at the center of the sending process.

— from Well Sent

Well Sent

Reimagining the Church's Missionary Sending Process

Well Sent provides an image of a missionary-sending process that rests in the hands of the local church. With decades of collective experience and insight, Steve Beirn, along with George Murray, acknowledges the many challenges sending agencies face due to an increasing number of unreached peoples throughout the world and the current increase of retiring missionaries. Well Sent equips local churches with scalable guidance, illustrations and resources that are accessible to potential missionary candidates and missions practitioners and provides action points that can support the mission efforts of any church.

The world makes more sense when we realize that everyone is being used. We have a choice as to how and by whom we will be used.

— from Who's Using You?

Who's Using You?

Making Yourself Available for God's Use

Inevitably, we all will be used, whether it is by others, the devil or God. Who's Using You? helps readers identify how we are used, by whom, and God's use of us for His greater purpose. While many equate being used with a negative act, Nehrbass reminds us that to be used by God should be our deepest desire. In forty short chapters, Who's Using You? encourages us to humbly remain available for God's use.

Stop Your Complaining is a book whose subject matter is self-evident. As clear and provocative as its title suggests, this book strikes at the heart of one of my biggest sin issues: complaining. With humor, candor and biblical truth, Ronnie pulls back the curtain on one of our favorite 'acceptable' sins and exposes it for what it is.

—Ted Kluck, author of Why We're Not Emergent and Household Gods

Stop Your Complaining

From Grumbling to Gratitude

Stop Your Complaining explores the often-overlooked sin of grumbling and explains how Christians can adopt an attitude of gratitude and humility. Through stories of men and women of the Bible, cultural figures and even the author himself, Stop Your Complaining explores the relationship between discontent and gratefulness. Through this book, we learn that God's grace is the only cure for complaining and that the gospel will radically change what we feel in our hearts and, consequently, what we say with our mouths.

My hope and dream for you—and everyone reading this book—is that you will trust God's plan for your life. God wants to bless you, to use you, to fulfill you—but only if you are willing to join His plan.

— from No Matter What

No Matter What Abiding in God's Faithfulness

Through the examination of the Genesis narrative of Joseph, No Matter What has a clear message: God has a plan for our lives. Joseph faced a number of life-altering hardships—imprisonment, temptation and family dysfunction, yet he did not lose sight of God's faithfulness. Berglund encourages us to do the same and stand on God's promises no matter what life may bring our way. No Matter What challenges us to seek a deeper relationship of trust with our Lord.

It is hard to overestimate the impact of the life of Corrie ten Boom. She and her family risked their lives by hiding Jews in occupied Holland during World War II. Arrested by the gestapo and sent to Ravensbruck, the notorious Nazi concentration camp, she found for herself the victory that overcomes the world. After being miraculously released, Corrie began an international ministry of writing and speaking. Her extensive traveling to share Christ and counsel the hurting made her a worldwide witness, or, as she put it, a "tramp for the Lord." Corrie died in 1983, on her ninety-first birthday.

From that moment forward, everything in our lives was changed. We did not know what was ahead of us, but I was certain of one thing—that Jesus would never leave us nor forsake us and that, for a child of God, no pit could be so deep that Jesus was not deeper still.

— from Corrie ten Boom's Prison Letters

Corrie ten Boom's Prison Letters

In 1944, as an act of resistance and commitment to their Christian faith, Corrie ten Boom and her family hid Dutch Jews from the Nazi regime. As a result, Corrie and her family were captured and imprisoned at Scheveningen and the concentration camp, Vught. While imprisoned, she communicated with her loved ones through letters filled with stories of unimaginable trials, resilience and her unfailing faith in the Lord. This collection of deeply-moving letters represents the only tie between Corrie, her loved ones and the outside world. It serves as a testament to her love and devotion to Christ and provides inspiration to us all.

Send Me, I'll Go

Letting the Mission Choose Your Direction

Born out of real conversations between church planter Jake Taube and American students serving on short-term mission trips in underground Chinese churches, Send Me, I'll Go calls for a shift in mission theory and practice. Jake Taube boldly challenges the notion that short-term missions offer young disciple makers the chance to adequately proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ as commanded by the Great Commission and offers a feasible, realistic view of long-term missions.
